for Open Kitchen Designs

Prepared by

Building Management Company

Version 3.0

April 2023

1 Introduction

1.1 GENERAL

The Fire Safety Management Plan (“the Plan”) is an elaboration on the fire safety strategy for open kitchen design in the flats of the proposed Composite building at Nos. 223, 223A, 225, 225A, Hai Tan Street (“the Development”), prepared in accordance with the Code of Practice for Fire Safety in Buildings 2011.

The Plan provides guidance on managing and maintaining the fire safety provisions of the buildings; to ensure safe evacuation of occupants from the premises; necessary fire safety actions and precautionary measures to be carried out and the roles and duties of the fire safety management staff.

The Plan is divided into three sections: Maintenance Plan, Training Plan and Fire Action Plan in accordance with Clause F4.5 of FS Code 2011.

Section 1 on Maintenance Plan includes (a) approved GBP with exit routes highlighted, (b) documents indicating the details/ specifications of the fire safety provisions installed; (c) period for regular maintenance of the fire safety provisions installed; (d) method statements for maintenance; (e) Repair methods; (f) Records of maintenance or repair works carried out; and (g) Housekeeping.

Section 2 on Training Plan focuses on roles and duties of the fire safety management staff for ensuring that they are familiar with the fire safety provisions installed and the actions to be taken in case of fire.

Section 3 outlines the procedures to be taken in case of fire.

The Plan is a “live” document, which requires periodic review. All aspects, recommendations and procedures of the fire safety strategy should be reassessed on a regular basis and updated to reflect any modifications / changes in use and operation of any area of the premises and the design assumptions adopted.

2 Maintenance Plan

2.1 GENERAL

For day-to-day operation of the premises, a structured and organized fire safety management plan is necessary to ensure all aspects related to its evacuation will be implemented and exercised regularly and competently. The plan shall be implemented in parallel with effective management which is fundamental to achieve fire safety. Without effective management, parts or all components of the fire protection systems could be rendered ineffective.

The fire safety management plan is intended to ensure all provisions made for fire safety of the premises are kept in good working condition. While active measures integrated into the system design including fire hydrant and hose reel systems, automatic sprinkler system, fire detection and alarm systems, portable fire extinguishers and other fire safety provisions within the Development shall be checked regularly and properly by routine maintenance, passive measures including timely repair of all damages to construction elements with particular attention to maintenance and operation of fire doors in the entrance lobby should also be taken.

The fire safety management plan should be brought to the attention of the Building Management Company and her management staff.

2.2 MAINTENANCE PLAN

In addition to responsibilities for routine inspection, the fire safety management staff should ensure all fire safety equipment is adequately and routinely tested and maintained. The fire safety of the occupants is dependent on a large number of inter-related features. Failure to maintain any one of the fire safety provisions in functional working order will cause the fire safety management of the whole premises to be ineffective.

A set of this fire safety management plan shall be kept in office and the counter in the entrance lobby. Alterations or modifications to an existing installation should not be carried out without consultation with the enforcing authorities, and where possible, the original system designer, fire safety engineer or installer (or other qualified persons). Implications of any alteration or modification also need to be checked against requirements of the Fire Engineering Report and relevant drawings.

2.2.1 Approved GBP with exit routes highlighted

A set of approved GBP with exit routes highlighted (Appendix A) together with this fire safety management plan shall be kept in office and the counter in the entrance lobby.

2.2.2 Documents indicating the details/ specifications of the fire safety provisions installed

A set of documents indicating the details/ specifications of the fire safety provisions installed together with this fire safety management plan shall be kept in office and the counter in the entrance lobby.

2.2.3 Period for regular maintenance of the fire safety provisions installed

The management office should assist the owners/tenants/occupiers to carry out annual maintenance of the fire service installations and submit the maintenance certificate to the Fire Services Department. The owners/tenants/occupiers should allow access for the registered fire service installation contractors to carry out annual check and maintenance.

The Chief Fire Warden is required to ensure the following systems to be functional and regular checking of the FSI at least once every 4 months and also be inspected by a Registered Fire Service Installation Contractor ("RFSIC") at least once in every 12 month.

2.2.4 Method statements for maintenance

Active fire services installations need to be well maintained in accordance with the statutory requirements. It is vital that they operate in accordance with the original design intent. All fire safety installations should be tested individually. The systems should be tested as a complete entity and the followings shall be observed:

a. Fire hydrant and hose reel system

-The fire hydrant and hose reel system shall be regularly checked to ensure the hydrant / hose reel nozzles, valves, fittings etc. remain intact at all times and are not damaged or misused for other purposes. In addition, all fire hydrants and hose reels must not be obstructed for operations.

b. Automatic sprinkler system

-The automatic sprinkler system shall be maintained in efficient working order at all times and shall be inspected by a Registered Fire Service Installation Contractor (RFSIC) at least once in every 12 months.

c. Fire detection and alarm systems

-The fire detectors and alarm systems shall be maintained in efficient working order at all times and shall be inspected by a RFSIC at least once in every 12 months.

-The direct line connection should be tested once every 2 weeks or at such time and interval as required by the requirements currently in force.

d. Portable fire extinguishers

-Apart from annual inspection, portable fire extinguishers shall undergo a hydraulic pressure test at least once in every 5 years and such test shall be carried out by a Class 3 RFSIC.

2.2.5 Repair methods

The repair for all Fire Services Installations shall be done by a Registered Fire Services Installation contractor in accordance with the methods as recommended by them.

2.2.6 Records of maintenance or repair works carried out

The Fire Warden should keep proper records of such inspections to be easily retrievable when required

The Fire Warden is required to submit the "Maintenance Report" to the Chief Fire Warden for record. Copies of the maintenance certificate (FS251) issued by FSD and records of inspection issued by the RFSIC are to be included in the Maintenance Report.

In addition, all maintenance records / logs should be kept orderly in a secure place, including:

1. Maintenance and testing records
2. Record of issuance of "Hot works" permits
3. Log of contractor's attendance

2.2.7 Housekeeping

Good housekeeping and sensible fire precautions will reduce the possibility of a fire occurring. Management staff / security guards should ensure that the accumulation of rubbish or the unauthorized stacking of combustible materials will not occur, as this will be detrimental to the functionality of the site.

In addition, the development will be regularly inspected by management staff / security guard and monitored by CCTV system, so as to ensure good housekeeping is in place.

The housekeeping will be carried out in accordance with the 'sample checklist on housekeeping' as attached in Appendix F1 in FS Code 2011.

3.2 FIRE WARDEN

The Fire Warden should be trained in fire safety and assigned by the Chief Fire Warden.

Under the normal circumstances, the Fire Warden should be the security staff and in charge of their own patrolling zone.

In the event of a fire alarm or emergency (notified via the office), the Fire Warden should take the following actions:

1. Check or arrange to have the floor checked for any sign of fire;
2. Report to the Supervisor of the office by using communication system such as walkie-talkie;

Warden.

The duties of the Supervisor include the following:

1. Monitor the FS alarm panel;
2. Receive information from the Fire Warden in case of fire or emergency and report to the Chief Fire Warden instantly; and
3. Contact the Control Centre of Computerized Fire Alarm Transmission System (CFATS) by direct telephone line as instructed by the Chief Fire Warden.

4 Fire Action Plan

4.1 GENERAL

This section includes an emergency evacuation plan for the premises in case of fire incident. The purpose of establishing this plan is to ensure the means of escape in case of fire incident and fire safety measures provided for the occupants are both adequate and reasonable.

4.2 EMERGENCY EVACUATION PLAN

Means of escape for occupants are provided in accordance with Code of Practice for Fire Safety in Buildings 2011. The emergency evacuation plan is to take into account circumstances of a fire incident to ensure the provided means of escape and fire safety precautionary measures are both adequate and reasonable.

The emergency evacuation plan defines procedures of emergency evacuation under different circumstances for fire safety management staff. The fire safety management staff members involved includes Chief Fire Warden (Facilities Manager), Fire Warden (Security Personnel) and Supervisor (Office Operator). The proposed organization chart is shown in Figure 1 below:

The Chief Fire Warden will be the key decision maker, responding to a fire for emergency incident. The Chief Warden must be the person who in charge for security in this building and must be available on site 24-hours a day, 7-days a week.

The Supervisor of the office will act as the coordinating officer, receiving and dispatching all information about the incident. The Fire Warden can be a number of security personnel, fully aware of their roles and actions in the event of a fire incident apart from their normal daily operational duties.

All fire safety management staff involved in responding to a fire incident and assisting in the evacuation process shall be briefed and fully conversant with the evacuation procedures. This understanding will assume occupants can be directed to a place of ultimate safety, minimizing confusion by giving clear directions relating to escape routes. The specific duties of the Chief Fire Warden, Fire Warden and Supervisor of the F.S. control room are detailed in Section 4.

4.2.1 Response to alarms

Fire in a building would be indicated by an alarm signal received in the F.S. control room and office or discovered by management staff.

All fire signals, except those from the detectors at individual flats with open kitchen, received in the F.S. control room will be automatically relayed to the Computerized Fire Alarm Transmission System (CFATS) through direct link. Upon receiving any fire signal, the Fire Warden shall be sent to the affected flat or affected area to check and confirm if there is no false alarm.

The response time of management staff upon receipt of a fire alarm signal for the sounder base smoke detector should be within 1 minutes. If any fire safety management staff discovers a fire, they shall report it to the office immediately by using walkie-talkie or other communication systems and initiate the fire alarm through break glass unit. The management staff shall also report the incident to FSD at the first instance by dialing 999.

After confirming a fire incident, the fire safety management staff shall describe the situation of the fire and report injury, if any, to the Fire Services Department. If safe to do so, staff should attempt to put out the fire using first aid fire fighting equipment (e.g. Portable fire extinguisher or fire hose reel). If the situation is critical, the fire safety management staff should prompt the commencement of evacuation of the affected area immediately. The evacuation procedure in Section 2.3 shall be followed.

4.2.2 Assisting the Firemen

The Chief Fire Warden should report to the FSD Incident Commander on the current evacuation situation upon their arrival. All evacuation procedures should be taken over by FSD. The F.S. control room and office shall have detail floor and compartment plans available at all times for their information and use. Fire safety management staff shall assist fireman if required.

4.3 EVACUATION PROCEDURES IN CASE OF A FIRE IN THE FLAT

All management staff / security guard involved in responding to a fire event and assisting in the evacuation process shall be fully conversant with the evacuation procedures. This understanding will mean that they can dissuade occupants from entering the affected floor and give clear directions relating to routes of escape.

Upon actitation of any fire signal (except these smoke detectors with sounder base inside the flats with open kitchen), all alarm bell and visual fire alarm of entire building will operate. The entire building shall be excavation.

The following evacuation procedures shall be conducted:

- The chief fire warden shall be in charge of the evacuation process prior to the arrival of the Fire Services Department.
- Fire warden should be informed of the exact fire location through walkie-talkie or other communication system.
- Fire Warden should be present at designated locations directing occupants to the evacuation routes such as escape staircases with EXIT indication.
- Management / security staff will direct and ensure that everyone evacuates to the escape staircases in an orderly manner:
 - Keep calm
 - Walk, DO NOT run, DO NOT use lift;
 - DO NOT carry any bulky or heavy belongings;
 - Remain in the designated assemble area and await arrival of Fire Services Department;
 - Do not re-enter building until advised by Fire Services Department.
- Management / security staff should be locating on the affected floor and announces the emergency message in English, Cantonese and Putonghua to occupants by using the hand-held loudspeaker. The content of the message is suggested as “There is a fire at _____, please evacuation now. Proceed to nearest escape staircase or exit. Do not run. Do not use any lifts. Thank you”
